Email Correspondence – Sept.30, 2025

Hello, I would like to introduce myself my name is Shilo I am a resident in Greenwood. I teach step by step paint parties and would love to host an Event for you in the future. If your school is in need of a fundraiser I would love to help. This is a fun social activity in a relaxed environment. Here is what I offer as a fundraiser. $10 per attendance will go toward your fundraiser. For example, attendees would prepay $45 per person for the event. If there were twenty people in attendance, the PAC would get $10 per person, that is $200. Here are some designs I have this season. Please feel free to message or email me for more info or to book in your party.

Reply – Oct.4, 2025

Hi Shilo,

Thanks for contacting us. Our PAC has a meeting coming up on October 15th and I've added your email to the agenda for discussion. I have a couple of questions.

What size are your canvases?

Canvas sizes are 11"x14" which we would put at $50 and $10 per ticket would go to the PAC. I set up the presales on the event through a link or etransfer then I will etransfer the raised funds to the PAC after the event. I will also do up some Facebook marketing that I will provide for the PAC to post.

Is there a minimum or maximum number of participants?

Minimum would be 15 participants up to 30ish. We could go more if there was one person to help set up and take down and providing there was enough tables and chairs.

Does the school need to provide tables, chairs, or any other supplies for the workshop?

Tables and chairs would need to be provided and also a garbage bag would be helpful for clean up. I provide the art supplies such as canvas, paint, brushes, paper plates for paint, paint, water cups for rinsing, tablecloths, easels are on back order (a flat surface will also work) paper towel, music.

Any refreshments or food items could be provided by the school, or you could incorporate a bake sale to raise more funds during the paint party.

Would this be taking place in the school gym or a classroom, or do you have your own location?

I do not have a location so ideally this would be at the school gym.
